

HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY STATEMENT

Rokill Limited firmly believes in:

- Providing a healthy and safe environment for their staff, customers and visitors and are committed to preventing injury and ill health.
- Ensuring, as far as is reasonably practicable, that their operations will not adversely affect the health and safety of people who may be affected by the business in whatever manner.

The company wholly accepts the aims and provisions of The Health and Safety at Work Etc. Act 1974 and other applicable legal requirements and recognises that foremost in its duties and responsibilities to its employees, customers and others is the need to provide and maintain safe, healthy and hygienic conditions and work practices.

The company also considers that all staff must be suitably qualified to carry out their particular functions and, consequently, accepts and invokes the need for adequate training.

The company also considers that its employees and sub-contractors have an individual responsibility for ensuring strict adherence to all company safety rules, guidelines and protocols as well as statutory requirements, and that they are obliged to co-operate with management in maintaining high standards of health and safety.

It is the intent of all management and staff at Rokill to apply the company safety policy and all current legislation appertaining to health and safety, and we firmly believe in the importance of our responsibilities regarding health and safety.

All staff at Rokill Limited are reminded via this document on the notice board and induction of their duty to:

1} pursue their duties in a safe manner with due regard to the health and safety of their colleagues, customers and other people who may be affected by them,

2} report any defects or hazards without delay to their line manager.

This document is made available to ALL interested parties.

Signed.. ....Alec McQuin, Managing Director

Reviewed January 2011

This document is reviewed annually